

I am voicing my strong support for legislation that limits the number of radio and TV stations a single company, or conglomerate, can own. The existence of multiple independent sources of news and information is ESSENTIAL for the health and integrity of democracy. By mandating strict limits on the ownership of broadcast stations, the FCC will demonstrate its commitment to the usefulness, honesty, and integrity of the information provided to the public through radio and TV. The monopolization of broadcast media by a few companies threatens to undermine the diversity of information available to the public. The diversity of news sources is extremely important, because it facilitates informed public opinion on government policies, political candidates, and matters that influence public safety and quality of life. Please act to limit broadcast ownership.
